Employee Beaten in Car Wash Robbery

About $204 cash was taken by a black male with an Afro-style haircut in an armed robbery at the Mr. Blitz Car Wash, 2218 Madison Ave., at 8:10 p.m. Friday.

The robber struck an attendant several times about the head and face during the incident.

Phillip Warren, 17, an employee at the car wash, said the man approached him asking if a car parked nearby belonged to the attendant.

When Warren replied, "yes," the man produced a blue steel revolver with a wooden handle and told Warren, "Hey boy, give me your keys, I'll drive."

The employee said he was then forced into the auto and the robber drove to the 2000 block of Lee Avenue, where he took about $200 in currency from Warren's shirt pocket and a money changer from his belt, containing about $4.

At this point, the robber struck Warren several times on the head and in the face. He stopped the auto pushing the car wash employee out, and sped east on 21st Street. The car was found abandoned at 28th and Quincy streets.

The robber was described as average build, in his early 20s, wearing a white shirt and blue jeans.

Mini-Bikes Stolen in Madison Store Theft

Several mini-bikes, valued at hundreds of dollars, were stolen Friday night or early Saturday by a group of thieves who apparently pushed the machines to a parking lot at Washington Avenue and Market Street, Madison, after breaking into the Madison Lawn and equipment Co., 1425 Second St., Madison.

William Hlawa Jr., owner of the firm, reported the burglary at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. An inventory of missing items, which may include several lawnmowers, still is being compiled.

Entry was gained by removing a sheet of plywood covering a broken window in an overhead door leading to a storage area, police said.

The mini-bikes were taken from the show-room and pushed through the overhead door on the west side of the building. One mini-bike was left standing inside the door.

Madison police investigators followed skid marks which indicated the bikes were pushed across Second Street, through the Tri-City Coal & Ice Co. yard at 1424 Market St. and along an alley between the 1400 blocks of Second and Market streets.

At this point, police theorized, the burglars crossed Madison Avenue still pushing the bikes and continued east on Market Street to a parking area on the southeast corner of Washington Avenue, where the skid marks stopped. The investigation is continuing today.

Arrest Penalty for Open Burning

Two city trucks manned by fire department workers will begin additional refuse pickups in Granite City tomorrow in a move to comply with the statewide open burning ban.

At the same time, city residents will become subject to arrest for burning leaves, waste paper and grass or tree trimmings under an order issued by Mayor Donald Partney.

Street Superintendent Lionel Portelli said the new pickup service will be in tomorrow in the Lincoln Place area of West Granite, proceeding north to Missouri Avenue. Regular announcements of areas in which pickups are scheduled will be made, Portelli said.

Only burnable materials which residents previously disposed of by burning will be picked up in the new collection service. All materials must be bagged, boxed or tied and placed in an alley or street for pickup. Information concerning the service may be obtained by calling the Granite City Department of Public Works at 876-5004, or the street department at 877-3080.

14 Heavy Equipment Operators Trained

The heavy equipment training school of Operating Engineers Local 520 has graduated its first class of trainees, it has been announced by Ted Dressel, Business Manager of Local 520.

The local's headquarters are at 520 Engineer Road, Mitchell. The training program was established through a contract with the International Union of Operating Engineers which in turn has a training contract with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the U.S. Department of Labor.

This graduating class of 14 was, and the succeeding class will be, selected with the cooperation of Metro-East Labor Council and other supporting organizations.

"We will then go into a program of skill improvement training, because it is the realization of this organization that employers must have qualified operators and improvements in equipment."

"The productivity of the Operating Engineers has increased over the past 12 years a great deal, and this increase has been accomplished through qualified operators and improvements in equipment."

"This organization realizes the importance of qualified operators with improved equipment to insure increased productivity."

"Local 520 of the Operating Engineers has in the past and will continue to meet the needs of the heavy construction industry," Dressel concluded.

Steelworker Wage Raises Depend on Pay Board

Approximately 3,000 steelworkers in the Quad-Cities will receive pay raises averaging 15-cents per hour tomorrow, unless the federal pay board acts to halt the increases.

Workers at Granite City Steel Co. and Laclede Steel Co. in Madison will receive the raises under contracts which will reach the end of the first year tomorrow. Both contracts provided for hourly increases plus guaranteed cost of living increases to be paid Aug. 1 each year for the three years of the contracts.

The raises include 12½-cent per hour at the bottom of the wage scale, increasing by one-half cent per hour for each job increment.

Of the 2,500 workers at Granite City Steel Co., those on the bottom end of the wage scale will receive increases from $3.38½ to $3.51 per hour, and the top level will increase from $6.88½ cents per hour to $6.33 per hour.

Laclede Increases The 500 workers at Laclede Steel Co. in Madison will receive increases from $3.35 per hour to $3.47½ per hour at the bottom of the scale. The top level rate will increase from $6.05 per hour to $6.29½ per hour.

Pontoon Cracks Down On Business Licenses

Despite protests by several business owners, the Pontoon Beach Village Board Thursday night voted to begin collection of overdue village business license fees.

Trustee John Cole, a member of the village finance committee, began the move to collect overdue fees last week when he requested Dorothy Simpson, village clerk, to prepare a list of Pontoon Beach businesses which were delinquent in paying license fees.

She presented the list at the meeting. It showed that more than half of the village's business establishments had not paid for village licenses for the last two years.

"From the records, it looks like some of the businesses here never have paid for a license which was required two years ago," she told the trustees.

Many businessmen and women complained that they had paid the license fees for years until they realized that no one else was paying. The list presented by Mrs. Simpson showed 16 businesses which had not obtained 1972 licenses.

To Send Notices

The board authorized her to send overdue notices to the business owners informing them they had two weeks from receipt of the letter to purchase a license, or the village would act to close the establishment.

Cole questioned whether the village had the authority to enforce collection of business licenses or whether court action would be necessary. The question was referred to the village attorney, Robert V. Matousek, for a ruling before the next meeting, Aug. 10.

Cole also asked for an opinion on how the village can collect license fees for offenses more than one year old. Several of the ordinances provide for daily fines during the period the fee is overdue.

Cole also informed the board that the finance committee is printing final notices on sewer fee collections for residents in the village who are overdue in their payments. Cole said the residents will have 15 days after receiving the letter to pay the fees or a lien will be placed on their homes.

Adopt Burning Ban

An open burning ordinance prohibiting the burning of paper, leaves and trash, was adopted by the board after several protests. The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has been threatening to take legal action against the village if such an ordinance was not enacted.

Village residents utilize private garbage and trash pickup firms and several complained that the cost of extra pickups should be the responsibility of the village and not the residents.

Chief of Police Harold Denham explained that the ordinance would go into effect immediately. He instructed his police men to begin citing offenders Friday morning.

Requests to annex the property of Louis Whitsell, Nameki Township supervisor, and land by the sandpit on the south side of Long Lake were approved on first reading. They will be presented again for final approval Oct. 10.

Whitsell's home presently is situated with one room inside the village and the remainder outside.

Other property for which annexation is being considered is owned by Howard Kaseberg, 415 Quiet Valley on the east, Long Lake on the north and the old Terminal Railroad right-of-way on the south.

Delay Bill Payment

The village treasurer, Mrs. Elsie Marlette, was unable to attend the meeting so the trustees chose not to pay bills until Aug. 10. The move brought several protests from those present, some of whom charged

Pontoon Police Costs Cut in Board Action

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

In a surprise move Thursday night, the Pontoon Beach Village Board approved cuts to the police department which are expected to save the village about $7,000 per year.

Cuts include the removal of one part-time police dispatcher, halting all clothing allowances for full-time paid policemen, reducing the clothing allowance for volunteer policemen one-third, vetoing all overtime except for vacation replacement duties, removing the police radio from the chief of police's private car and purchasing police radios instead of renting them.

The most hotly disputed issue at the meeting was the stoppage of the clothing allowance for fulltime policemen.

Save $1,250

The village's four full-time policemen each received a $125 lump sum payment each year for clothing, plus $15 per month, total of $305 per year. The cut is expected to save the village $1,250 annually.

The cut from $15 per month to $12 per month clothing allowance for the village's seven part-time policemen and dispatchers qualifying for that allowance will save the village $420 per year.

All overtime for full-time officers were allowed up to 20 hours per month overtime at straight pay and most said they used all of that time. The elimination of overtime, except when a policeman is substituting for another who is on vacation, is expected to save $540 per year.

Purchase Radios

The village presently rents its police radio units at $170 per month, including maintenance. Under the new plan, the radios would be returned and would be replaced by new high-band radios purchased from Wise Communications Inc. for $1,740 per unit over a period of five years, including maintenance.

The village also plays $30 per month rental on a police radio for the personal car of Police Chief Harold Denham which was eliminated by the board action, saving an additional $360 per year.

The savings from eliminating the rented radios, including the chief's radio, $2,400, will give the village a $860 savings per year when the payments on the new radio equipment are made.

Eliminate Dispatcher

The largest single savings will be $347 per month or $4,160 per year by eliminating one dispatcher. The board voted to allow Robert Morgan, chief dispatcher, make a recommendation to the board at its next meeting as to which dispatcher should be dismissed.

Morgan said Friday that Miss Pamela Marie Moore, 18, of 144 Eastgate Drive, submitted her resignation this week for other reasons and Morgan said he will request that she not be replaced.

The moves to reduce the expenses of the police department came only two weeks after Mayor Orin Kreher appointed Trustee John Cole as head of the village's police committee, replacing the former chairman, Loren Madison.

Cole said he is completely re-scheduling of the part-time policemen's hours which would provide one full-time and one volunteer policeman on duty in separate cars during the peak crime period of 6 p.m. to midnight, Mondays through Saturdays.

"We feel that having two cars on the street during that period, instead of one, is receiving double protection at the same cost," Cole said.

Homecoming at Newport Set For Sept. 2-3-4

Detailed plans are being made for the second annual Newport Homecoming Association homecoming Sept. 2, 3 and 4, it was announced today.

The group was established to promote yearly pageants for residents and former residents of West Madison, North Venice, Kerr Island and Eagle Park.

Rides are to be operated and there will be baseball, softball and truck competition. A variety of instrumental groups will provide music for listening and dancing, and church observances related to the homecoming are being arranged.

A highlight will be a parade at 10 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 2, with high school bands participating.

A breakfast will be held on Labor Day, Sept. 4, to help "homeowners meet homeowners" for a mobile home park shopping center, golf course and apartment complex. HUD has objected that rezoning would conflict with a 1969 land use plan for the county. The county, however, never has adopted the 1969 or any other land use plan.

Woman Hurt in 5-Car Crash on Nameoki Rd.

A five-car accident at Johnson and Nameoki roads at 9 a.m. Saturday apparently resulted in injuries to only one person, according to the police report.

Officers said that an auto operated by Hal F. Strickland, 73, of Edwardsville, traveling south in the outside lane of Nameoki Road, struck the curb then bounced into the side of a car driven by Linda Steens, 3246 Klarney Drive, causing the Steens auto to hit vehicles operated by Patricia S. McKay, 604 Margaret St., Mitchell, Sonja S. Holloway, 2156 Bern Ave., and Sylvester Dulgeroff, 52 Oaklawn Drive. The latter car also was struck by Strickland's auto, police said.

Reported as receiving minor injuries was Mrs. Linda Steens, who was struck by Strickland's auto, all vehicles were halted at the time of the accident.

Detailed Study Started on Environmental Impact of Continued 9-Foot River Channel

Colonel Guy E. Jester, district engineer, U. S. Army Engineer District, St. Louis, last week discussed the unique manner in which an environmental impact statement for the nine-foot channel project of the Mississippi River is being prepared.

Col. Jester said intensive studies are being performed to delineate important fish and wildlife areas along the unprotected floodplain of the Mississippi River that are presently affected, or that may be affected in the future, by the nine-foot channel project.

evaluate the importance of backwater areas to the Mississippi River fishery. For the wildlife and waterfowl aspect, the Waterways Experiment Station is planning to conduct studies with similar state conservation and academic organizations.

Model studies will be undertaken to determine methods of reducing siltation in the backwater areas.

Possible solutions may include the use of special dike configurations or closures at chute entrances to exclude coarse sediment particles, or even periodic dredging of chute entrances.

Col. Jester said he is firmly convinced that an equitable solution exists that will satisfy both navigation and conservation interests with regard to the nine-foot navigation channel.

The study is expected to be completed in the summer of 1973.

Fiedler and Metropolitan Conductor Levine to Wield Baton Here During Weekend

Guest conductors James Levine and Arthur Fiedler will lead the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra this weekend at the Mississippi River Festival at Edwardsville.

On Saturday night, Aug. 5, at 8:30, Levine, principal conductor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will guest conduct with Metropolitan Opera star Edo de Waart.

The following evening, Sunday, Aug. 6, at 7:30, the Festival's concertmaster, John Korman, will be soloist, with world famous conductor Arthur Fiedler on the podium.

Levine, who conducted the St. Louis Symphony in February and October 1971, has chosen works by Mozart, Rossini and Wagner for his program.

The orchestral selection will include: Mozart's Overture to "The Marriage of Figaro" and Symphony No. 41 in C major; Rossini's Overture to "La Cenerentola" and Wagner's "Ride of the Valkyries"; and "Magic Fire Music" from "Die Walkure."

On Sunday, Arthur Fiedler, known worldwide as conductor of the Boston Pops Orchestra and for his frequent guest conducting appearances, will lead a program ranging from classical standards to popular music.

Highlighting the concert will be a performance by concertmaster John Korman of Saint-Saens' Concerto No. 3 in B minor for Violin and Orchestra.

From the classical repertoire, Fiedler will select: "Entrance of the Guests from Wartburg" from "Tannhauser," Weber's "Overture to Euryanthe," Bizet's Suite, "Les Fes-tivals," and the Final Dance (Malombo) from "Estancia" by the contemporary South American composer Ginastera.

Selections from "Show Boat" by Jerome Kern will represent Broadway and from the popular music repertoire will come "Simon & Garfunkel" and "For All We Know" by Karlin-Wilson-James.

The six-week 1972 season is sponsored by Mississippi River Festival, Inc., a not-for-profit Illinois corporation with directors from Missouri and Illinois. It receives financial support from the Missouri State Council on the Arts and the Illinois Arts Council.

Tickets range from $2.50 to $5.50 for reserved seating under the tent; lawn seating is $2. Ticket information is available by telephone at Powell Symphony Hall, 314-535-3300, or the SUE ticket office at 692-2320.

Republican Group To Back Walker For Governor

Dr. John Mathey, Peoria, physician who opposed Governor Richard B. Ogilvie in the Republican gubernatorial primary in March will head a committee of independent Republicans which will work for the election of Dan Walker, Democratic candidate for governor.

Walker announced formation of the committee at Springfield Thursday. He said William J. Rutherford of ePoria who served as Ogilvie's first director of the Department of Conservation, will be co-chairman of the group.

Philip Morris, Decatur, a Republican precinct committee man, will be operating director of the organization. Campaign headquarters for the group have been opened in Decatur and Peoria.

In a press conference at Springfield, Walker termed a "distorted and outright lie" a charge that he favors a graduated income tax.

He said he has advocated a tax relief for the lower income group and the elderly which could be accomplished with income less than $15,000 a year under the present flat rate income tax.

Walker said a graduated tax would only raise the amounts paid by everybody, but the tax credit would give relief to those with less income without increasing the rates for others.

The comparatively small loss in state revenue through the tax credit could be made up through additional federal money for education and welfare, anticipated increases in state revenue through improved economy or savings in state governmental spending.

Posthumous Award to Hodding Carter Jr.

Mrs. Hodding Carter of Greenville, Miss., was on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville last week to accept the Capt. Donald T. Wright special award for her husband, the late editor and publisher of the Greenville Delta-Democrat. Times.

The award was presented posthumously "in recognition of excellence in maritime transportation journalism." Presentation of the plaque bearing this inscription was made by SUE President John S. Rendleman to Mrs. Carter.

The Capt. Wright Award is given annually by the mass communications department at SUE in recognition of distinguished service to inland and intercoastal water transportation through professional journalism.

The award commemorates Wright's dedication to the field of maritime transportation. From 1922 to 1965 he was editor and publisher of the Waterways Journal.

This year's regular Wright award went to James L. Standfield, National Geographic Magazine photographer, on May 5. The special award for Carter was announced at that time but Mrs. Carter was unable to be present to accept the award for her husband.

"Man and the River"
Carter was recognized by SUE for his book, "Man and the River: The Mississippi, published last year. The author lived best of us was associated with the Mississippi River most of his life.

His book relates two significant themes: man's persistent attempts to control the power of the river, and the meandering nature of man and the river in the river's valley. The Pulitzer prize-winning author died April 4.

Among those witnessing the presentation with Mrs. Carter were Mrs. Hodding Carter, Sr., of Greenville; Mrs. Wright, Webster Groves, Mo., wife of the man for whom the award is named; Capt. ## Boy Scout Camp Sunnen Attendance Record Set

The 1972 summer camping season at the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Camp Sunnen, located near Potosi, Mo., will end this week after establishing a new attendance record with 1,181 Scouts, leaders and junior leaders attending.

The final week which started Sunday at 2 p.m. also set a new attendance record for any single week, with 228 Scouts and leaders attending.

Camp attendance was increased this year by Scouts and leaders of the Plaza Bird Council, with headquarters in Wood River. Their camp was closed due to lake pollution.

Even without the Plaza Bird Scouts, the camp showed an 8% increase over last season. This year there were 766 from the local council in attendance, which is 8% over 707 attending in 1971.

Camp Sunnen during the past several years received national recognition as one of the outstanding camp operations in the nation, featuring in all phases of operation the basic Boy Scout patrol method of camping. The camp opened in 1953.

Same Leadership

As near as possible the Scouts, while in camp, are with the same patrols they belong to at home, and are under the same adult leadership.

The Scouts carry on most of their activities by patrols, ranging in size from six to eight. They cook their own food for the entire week, beginning with rather simple menus, which become more and more complex as they learn to cook and cooperate.

Assisting the local Scoutmasters in camp is a group of 27 highly-trained young men with specialties ranging from aquatics to ecology.

J. Richard Hooks, Venice, is serving his last season as camp director under the guidance of William Monical, scout executive of the Cahokia Mound Council. Hooks was program director during the 1971 season.

Every phase of the Boy Scout program is available to the Scouts, and special emphasis is given such items as nature study, canoeing, wildlife management, and similar areas not readily available in the city.

A junior leader training program for the boy leaders of each troop was held the week prior to the troop going to camp. This special training acquainted the boy leaders with all the procedures and facilities at Sunnen, and also gave them training in responsible leadership.

Scouts from the southern half of Madison County and all of Bond County.

At camp this week, from this area, are:

Troop T-22, sponsored by Frohardt School PTA, Bill Down, leader; Bill Kovach, Randy Byrd, Louis Spahr, Chris Spahr, Chuck Johannmeier, Troop T-46, sponsored by the Nameoki School PTA, John Bessley, leader; Erich Miller, Brian Howell, Gary Spole, Jeff Senter.

Accommodations are limited to 30 families. Fees for camp are based on 2 nights and 6 meals per person. Adults, 13 and up, $8; 6-12 years, $7; 2-5 years, $4; and children under 2 are free.

Camp opens at 2 p.m. Saturday and runs to 3 p.m. Monday. Details and other information may be obtained by contacting Kent D. Dunn, YMCA, 2001 Edison Ave. or call 876-7200.

Madison Police Play GC Rebels

The Rebels, a women's softball team, from Granite City, encouraged by a sister team's victory, over the Madison Fire Department, has challenged the Madison Police to a John Young benefit softball game, at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, on the Third street diamond in Madison.

"We have no intention of letting the women beat us Tuesday," Madison Police Sgt. Ronald Graywack confidently commented. "Police are used to handling any type of stress situation, and if worse comes to worse, will let Sir Kelly (Madison's police dog) handle the opposition."

The Madison police also are operating two benefit barbeque stands from noon until 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday. One stand will be at Schermers' Market parking lot in Madison and the other at 1386 Nineteenth St.

Mercer Blasts Piasa 27-6, Boosters Clip Indians 6-3

Piasa's baseball team suffered two defeats at the hands of local teams in Inter-City Baseball League action during the weekend.

Playing at Piasa on Saturday, Mercer stomped to a 27-6 win, and on the Third Street diamond in Madison Sunday St. Mary's Boosters clipped the Piasa Indians 6-3.

Mercer and St. Mary's remain tied for second place in the Blue division, each with 6-7 records.

The Mercer nine scored five runs in the first inning, one in the second, three in the fifth, 10 in the seventh, two in the eighth and six in the ninth.

Piasa's six runs all came in the sixth when the Indians knocked Larry Corey, the winning pitcher, out of the box. Campbell went to the mound in relief and finished the game.

Mercer's players slugged 24 hits, mostly singles, and were aided as Piasa committed 11 errors.

Ed Hagnaur was four-for-seven at bat, and Jack Scarborough, Bob Scott and Jim Greenwald were three-for-six.

"This was the worst game of baseball I have ever seen played," Wendell Cory, winning manager, said. "It was so bad we were trying to make outs in the ninth so we could go home. We tried everything but deliberately strike out so we could go home, and still made six runs."

Boosters Game
In Sunday action St. Mary's hurler John Piechocinski took the mound in relief during the fifth inning and pitched one-hit bull the rest of the way. Madison trailed 3-2 going into the bottom of the seventh when St. Mary's scored three. Gary Bathion led off with a single and stole second. His brother Fred then singled him home. Al Bragen connected with a single to score Fred, and he scored as the Indian leftfielder was charged with an error.

Bragen scored in the first inning on a hit by Ken Cook, and Jay Greer singled, stole second and came home on a Piasa error to score in the third.

In other league action Sunday, Highland topped Troy 2-0 in an 11-inning game; Fairfax surprised Glen Carbon 5-3, and Van's of East Alton clipped Moltor of Collinsville 6-4.

On Sunday Mercer will play Vans at East Alton and St. Mary's will be at home to Moltor on the Third Street diamond.

LEGION ALL-STARS. John Stanton, left, pitcher, and Jack Scarborough, centerfielder, members of the American Legion Post 113 baseball team, were selected to fill positions on the all-star line of the American Legion District 22 baseball league. The two players were presented with trophies and certificates at an American Legion sports banquet held Thursday on the Carbondale campus of SIU.

Pro Football Injuries Expected to Increase

Copley News Service
LOS ANGELES — The number of major injuries in professional football is going to increase instead of decrease if certain rules are allowed to go unchanged.

This is particularly true in the case of blindsiding blocking, which has contributed substantially to knee injuries, which have mounted in recent years.

This is one of the observations of Dr. Jules Risinski Jr., team physician for the Los Angeles Rams, who indicated he could foresee no major breakthroughs in equipment that would reduce grid injuries. He also is of the opinion there is nothing practical that can be done with headgear that would better protect the player's head than the helmet as a weapon.

The doctor's views on the hazards of the blindsiding, or cut-back, block, are similar to those of Clyde Smith, athletic director emeritus of Arizona State University. Smith also has been of the opinion for many years that the forearm block, a trademark of the "T" formation on pass blocking — can be a deadly weapon unless officials strictly enforce the rules.

Owners to Decide
"It is up to the owners (of professional teams) to decide about the (blindsiding) blocking," Risinski said in an interview.

A combination of factors contributes to the greater number of knee injuries, including some of the more obvious reasons — "men are bigger and faster," agrees Risinski. But Risinski said that while the overall physical qualifications of a football player may be greater today than in the past, certain things have not changed.

One reason is that the forearm block, which is not illegal, does not have the tenacity to withstand intense physical pressure. A reference on a recent Monday pro game telecast to a possible change in the outside surface of helmets to cushion it with foam rubber or some other substance was of interest to Risinski, but he does not foresee a practical application.

Bill Rensen is that by coating the outside of the helmet in some way, the impact would be sustained and a more serious injury would result than if a plastic helmet made contact and slid off. The helmet used by the Rams and many other teams is cushioned by a half-dozen air and fluid cells that "give" to some extent on contact.

More than a decade ago, with the increasing popularity of the squarish plastic helmets, some players began driving into their opponents with their helmets as a tool to block or tackle.

Nothing Illegal
There is nothing illegal about that so far as rules are concerned, nor is there any infraction — short of clipping — for cut-back blocking.

Smith, commenting on the cut-back or blindsiding block, emphasized "a man cannot protect himself against that." The "straight-on" block more common in years past is something you can see and defend against.

The forearm block can be deadly. "You can almost knock a man's head off," Smith said. This could occur when the athlete raises his arms on contact. "The arm is not to be used as a weapon," he said.

"Too often, officials ignore the obvious infraction of a player who moves his arms away from his body to shove or drive his opponent back. The rule on the 'T' block is that the hands must remain in contact with the body."

The question of injuries remains one of the more serious ones in professional football, a fact that Commissioner Pete Rozelle recognizes.

"We are concerned about injuries," he has stated.

But Rozelle also has indicated there are no plans to change the rules at this time, although the issue is subject to constant review.

Pro football has been so successful, though, no one seems ready to do anything that might change a good thing, including streamlining of rules. Violence still pays off.

Miss Nancy Sue Kuhrik, John Hluchan Are Wed

The wedding of Miss Nancy Sue Kuhrik and John William Hluchan was solemnized Saturday at six o'clock in the evening, at St. John Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Mary Kuhrik, 2824 Washington Ave., and the late John E. Kuhrik, and Mrs. and Mr. Frank Hluchan of Indianapolis, Ind.

Arrangements of white 'mums and yellow' pom poms with greenery adorned the altar and white satin ribbons decorated candelabra, holding lighted white tapers, to provide the setting for the service. Lighting the candles was a cousin of the bride, Miss Susan Groves.

Mrs. Phyllis Jarabak presided at the organ for the vocalists, Misses Heather Potter and Margie Settlemyer, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Wedding Song."

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Samuel Boda.

Members of the wedding party were Miss Marilee Kuhrik, a sister of the bride, maid of honor, Mrs. Dale Jellen, another sister of the bride, Mrs. Darwin McCoud, a former classmate, Miss Donna Ottomeyer and Miss Anne Hluchan, the groom's sister, bridesmaids.

Miss Lilly Degischer, a cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and Lori Ann McCoud served as flower girl.

They were identical gowns of white flowered polyester sheer over maize taffeta and carried nosegays of white pom poms and baby breath. The flower girl held a white wicker basket filled with pom poms.

For her wedding, the former Miss Kuhrik chose a full length gown of ivory organza over taffeta, featuring an Empire waist accenting the Venetian lace bodice and camelot sleeves.

A cathedral length veil of nylon illusion was held in place with a headpiece of fabric flowers and she carried a nosegay of white pom poms, golden garland roses and baby breath.

Attending the groom as best man was John Swengel of Indianapolis. Groomsmen included Jim Shaffer of Ludington, Mich., Paul Brehob of Indianapolis, Dale Jellen of Granite City and Bill Wessel of St. Louis.

Seating the guests were Charles Bobinette and Alan Boyd, both of St. Louis. The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Hluchan received guests at a reception at Holy Trinity Hall in Madison, following the ceremony. Presiding at the guest book was Miss Susan Kathleen Petricovich, a cousin of the bride.

After a wedding trip to New York, they will reside in Jennings, Mo.

A rehearsal dinner for members of the wedding party was given by the groom's parents at Charlie's Restaurant.

The bride is a graduate of Granite City High School and Jewish Hospital School of Nursing. She is employed at the St. Louis hospital.

Her husband is a graduate of Purdue University and is attending St. Louis University School of Law. He works at the McDonnell-Douglas Corp. plant in St. Charles, Mo.

Guests who attended the wedding from out-of-town included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hluchan and daughter, Anne, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Throckold, Bruce Gaylord, Charles Pugh, Lloyd Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaines and daughter, all of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tegeler of Chicago.

Family Record System For 'Cashless' Society

As more and more business firms go computerized and are increasingly getting into the act, a cashless, cashless society appears to be just around the corner.

A Southern Illinois University Carbondale home economist, long concerned about the vagueness of family record-keeping, has developed a code system that she believes will enable a family to keep tabs on its finances, even with computerized banking.

Mrs. Karen Craig, acting chairman of the department of family economics and management, has been testing her system with her own finances during the past four years. This summer, under a grant from University Research and Projects, she is field testing it with 50 Southern Illinois families—25 in Jackson County and an equal number in Monroe County.

Mrs. Karen Craig, acting chairman of the department of family economics and management, has been testing her system with her own finances during the past four years.

Under her system, checks (or charged items) are coded to show the various categories (such as food, clothing, recreation, household equipment; whether durable or of temporary use; whether an item is a winter coat or an expendable pair of shoes); whether a purchase affects the family's net worth.

Within the past two years, she said, two other new methods of family record-keeping have been produced and are in use in some areas.

One was developed at Cornell University and the other, called Rec-Check, by the Nevada National bank of Nevada, La.

In field-testing her system, she wants to find out if the pile of family find it as easy to use as the traditional system, if it can be used in conjunction with the print-out on the bank statements, if it provides an accurate picture of what each family is buying, if it accurately reflects the increase or decrease in their net worth, and finally—if they like it.

Neighborhood children will be invited to attend the carnival on Saturday, Aug. 12, at the home of Kenneth E. Gorfline, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Stark, 5109 Maryville Road.

Kenneth, 8, who will start the fourth grade at the Russell D. Johnson School in September, will serve as riggermaster. Assisting the youngster will be Eric Schrader, 8, Laura DeTherage, 11, and the host's sisters, Carolyn, 14, and Misty, 3.

The event, expected to begin at noon and continue until 4 p.m. Aug. 12, will feature such games as penny toss, wagon rides, space through horseshoes, plus a bazaar sale and refreshments, including hot dogs, soda and popcorn, the youthful organizer reported.

All proceeds will go to aid the fight against muscular dystrophy and related diseases afflicting millions.

50,000 Drivers Fail

Last year alone, over 50,000 Illinois licensed drivers failed the state written examination. This year, the number of drivers that will fail could jump to a hundred thousand or more. Experts say the reason is that rules and regulations change, and even some good safe drivers just don't keep up with the new laws. If your license expires this year, you may be among the hundreds of thousands that will be re-examined in 1972. So if you're nervous about taking the state written exam, here's

MRS. RICKY L. SINGLETON, whose wedding took place Saturday afternoon at the Briarcliff Pentecostal Church. She is the former Miss Debra L. Travis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Travis, 3176 Jill Ave.

Debra Travis Becomes Mrs. Rickey Singleton

Bouquets of white, orchid and aqua flowers decorated the sanctuary of Briarcliff Pentecostal Church for the afternoon wedding Saturday of Miss Debra L. Travis and Sergeant Rickey L. Singleton, U. S. Air Force.

Mrs. James Dillard presided the organ as Jerry Singleton sang "The Lord's Prayer," preceding the ceremony.

The Rev. Ross Smith performed the double ring service at two o'clock. A reception at the Long Lake Firemen's Hall followed. Miss Sheila Smith attended the guest book.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Travis, 3176 Jill Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Singleton, 2747 Sunset Drive.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace designed with a fitted bodice, featuring a high neckline etched with seed pearls and intricate lace.

Long bishop sleeves and a wide tapered band above the wrists formed points over the hands.

A lace apron, detailing the front of the very full skirt and edged with a delicate lace ruffle, was caught up at the back waistline to reveal a cascade of ruffled tiers extending into a chapel train.

She wore a long mantilla veil of bridal illusion trimmed with a wide band of scalloped lace, daintily applied at the edge, and secured with a cluster of pearls as a headpiece. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white carnations intermingled with orchid and aqua flowers, with matching streamers.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Allen Warrington, the bride's sister chose a full length gown in aqua color and the bridesmaid, Miss Cindy Warren, chose of the bride, selected a dress in orchid. Their gowns were made in similar style.

The newly married couple are graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Travis is employed in the examination department of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Sgt. Singleton is stationed at Kincheloe AFB, Mich. at the present time. He will report for duty on the Philippine Islands on Nov. 1.

Youth Carnival to Aid Dystrophy Fund

Johnson School in September, will serve as riggermaster. Assisting the youngster will be Eric Schrader, 8, Laura DeTherage, 11, and the host's sisters, Carolyn, 14, and Misty, 3.

The event, expected to begin at noon and continue until 4 p.m. Aug. 12, will feature such games as penny toss, wagon rides, space through horseshoes, plus a bazaar sale and refreshments, including hot dogs, soda and popcorn, the youthful organizer reported.

All proceeds will go to aid the fight against muscular dystrophy and related diseases afflicting millions.

The children got the idea for staging the carnival while watching television personality "Mr. Patches," who is promoting youth carnivals on his "Little Castle" children's show seen on station KDNL-TV Channel 30.

Last year, in cooperation with Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, more than 20,000 carnivals were held by youngsters across the country, and over $33,000 was raised for MDA's research and patient service programs.

Should inclement weather coincide with the carnival date, Mrs. Gorfline has promised the children use of a large garage at 1009 Maryville Road on the date. Additional information about the affair may be obtained by calling 931-0485.

Marksmanhip, Cave Exploring, Aquatic Fun, Outdoor Skills Occupy Boy Scouts at Camp Sunnen

AQUATIC SKILLS. A major program area at Boy Scout Camp Sunnen centers around the waterfront, where scouts learn how to swim, improvise and strengthen their swimming ability, save lives, row and sail boats, handle a canoe, learn to fish and even qualify junior and senior Red Cross lifesaving. Scouts working on lifesaving merit badge and learning rescue techniques are, from left to right, Lindsay Church, Bill Polley, Phil Daniels, who is camp aquatic director, and Joe Distler and Barry Church. The scouts are members of Troop 13 of the St. Elizabeth Holy Name Society.

PIONEERING PROJECT. One of many such projects for scouts at Boy Scout Camp Sunnen, located near Potosi, Mo., is the building of a look-out tower using various lashings and knots. Since the builders must test out the tower when completed, great care is taken in its construction. Standing on top of the tower is Mike Wilmore, scoutcraft instructor. Scouts climbing to the top are Mark Gasparovic, Troop 13, sponsored by St. Elizabeth Holy Name Society, and Keith Sanders, Joe Hlava and Terry Kowalczyk, all of Troop 47, St. Mary's Church in Madison.

GRUB HUSTLERS. Boy Scouts attending Camp Sunnen, operated by the Cahokia Mound Council, cook by patrols all their own meals from the time they arrive until they leave for home. The scouts take turns getting the food from the commissary building (as pictured here) and cooking, building the fires and cleaning up. Scouts from Troop 18 sponsored by the Sacred Heart PTA are (left to right) Mark Huelsmann, Ken Antoff and Kenny Williamson. Explorers in the dark shirts, are Jack Small, left, and Mike Siebert, members of the camp staff, who work in the commissary.

Ogilvie Names Members of Capital Development Board

Philip W. Hummer, a Chicago brokerage executive and a member of the Illinois Housing Development Authority, was appointed by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie Thursday to head the new seven-man Capital Development board which will oversee the state's construction programs.

The governor also announced appointment of the other six members. They are: Ray W. Bruhe, Rock Island public relations executive and chairman of the Illinois Junior College Board; Wade R. Chestnut, Poria, corporate financial analyst; Robert G. Gibson, Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the Illinois AFL-CIO; J. B. Wenzel, Bend, attorney and former state aeronautics chief; John W. Carter, Springfield, state budget director; and Lendol A. Snow, Chicago, an attorney.

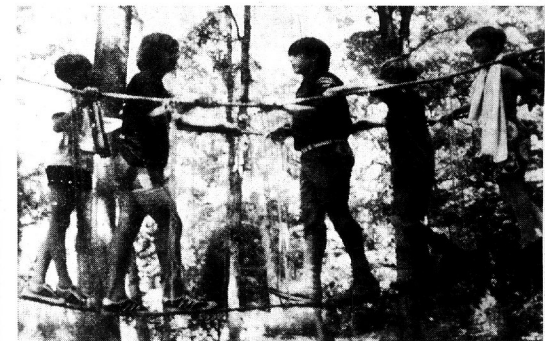

The board will handle state building projects formerly administered by the Illinois Building Authority, the School Building Commission, the Department of General Services and the five governing boards of

READY ON THE FIRING LINE. Individual instruction is given to scouts at Camp Sunnen on the rifle range. Scouts not only learn safety procedures and care of a rifle, but are taught by qualified instructors to hit what they aim at. Scout firing on the left is Chris Buhr, Troop 32, being coached by Randy Affolter, field sports staff member; firing on the right is Scout Bill Touze, Troop One, being coached by Clyde Donovan, field sports director.

ONE-LANE TRAFFIC JAM. Walking the monkey bridge over a creek bed about eight feet off the ground is great sport if you don't meet someone coming the other way. Scouts from left to right are Keith Sanders and Terry Kowalczyk of Troop 47, sponsored by St. Mary's Church in Madison, Mike Wilmore, scoutcraft staff member; Joe Reisinger, Troop 13 of St. Elizabeth Holy Name Society, and Joe Hlava, Troop 47. The boys will learn to make the rope bridges as part of their scoutcraft training.

Lawn Trimmings, Leaves Cannot Be Burned Legally in This County

Copley News Service
Springfield—Some Illinois residents this fall may be legally allowed to burn summer lawn trimmings and autumn leaves—but only if they live in small communities remote from large communities, and if the wind is brisk.

The state Environmental Protection Agency has bowed before repeated and loud objections from many Illinois residents to a ruling adopted last fall.

That ruling prohibited traditional fall bonfires in most communities—and probably generated more resentment throughout the state than any other single ruling.

Now noting that the "Agency has been made increasingly aware of the problems experienced by small, isolated municipalities in attempting to comply," and that many of these communities have in fact been "reluctant to initiate variance procedures," the EPA has recommended that the Pollution Control Board amend its earlier restrictions.

Public hearings will have to be held on the proposed changes before they could be adopted. If the PCB does amend the restrictions, the open burning of landscape trimmings—and only landscape trimmings—will be allowed in communities with populations of 1,000 or less, if the wind is at least eight miles an hour.

And if the burning is done on the site where the refuse was generated, and if the burning does not create a visibility hazard on roadways, railroad tracks or air fields.

Even some communities which have only 1,000 population or less, and where the wind sometimes blows at least eight miles an hour, won't get to sniff burning leaves this fall, though, if they are located in regions near specifically the areas around Chicago, Rockford, Rock Island, densely populated urban areas, Moline, Peoria and St. Louis are all excluded from the exemption.

Even if adopted, the exemptions will not apply in Cook, Lake, Will, DuPage, McHenry, Kane, Grundy, Kendall, Kankakee, Winnebago, DeKalb, Peoria, Tazewell, St. Clair or Madison Counties.

The proposal recommends that residents could be notified when wind speed was at least eight miles an hour either by normal radio or television broadcasts, or by using the Beaufort Wind Scale, which gives winds of eight to 12 miles an hour a rating of three on a scale running from zero to 12.

At the Beaufort 3 ratings, leaves and small twigs are in constant motion and a light flag would be extended by the wind.

The exemptions are limited only to landscape waste in urban regions because background air pollution levels in these areas often already exceed federal and secondary standards, the EPA says.

Extending the exemptions to allow open burning of other combustible household wastes would result in year-round burning and increased pollution levels which the EPA says it flags "unacceptable."

Besides it is reasoned by the EPA, combustible household wastes can readily be handled by normal garbage pickup or can be hauled by the homeowner to a nearby landfill.

Open burning would not be permitted under the exemptions in urban regions because background air pollution levels in these areas often already exceed federal and secondary standards, the EPA says.

Plan Lake Recreation At Nuclear Power Plant

Studies to establish a master plan for use of the 5,000-acre lake and 120-mile shoreline at the planned Illinois Power Co. Clinton nuclear power plant are under way, Wendell J. Kelley, president, said last week.

The company is to build a nuclear power complex and cooling lake on about 15,000 acres of land located east and north of Clinton, Ill. When the plan was announced in October 1970, Kelley told a representative gathering from DeWitt County that advantages stemming from construction of the lake would be studied to determine best use of the land and water available for recreation and conservation.

Johnson, Johnson & Roy, Inc., Ann Arbor, Mich., have been engaged for the study. Kelley said Wednesday, adding that preliminary surveys are in progress.

"The JJR organization was engaged after a thorough study of qualifications of a variety of firms from over the country," Kelley said. "C. W. Wells, manager of sales for Illinois Power, headed a committee which interviewed several planning firms and determined that the unique experience and expertise of the JJR group best fit our requirements."

"It is our hope that in conjunction with this vital facility for the generation of power, we can provide the recreational and conservation activities most needed by this area. That is the assignment for JJR."

Johnson, Johnson & Roy has a staff of more than 30 environmentalists, ecologists, landscape architects, preservation architects and botanists.

For more than four years, JJR has been involved in the study of environmental impact by all kinds of electric utility installations.

Clarence Roy and Elwood Holman, landscape architects, will be responsible for supervising the Illinois Power project.

In all its planning assignments, JJR puts primary design focus on the interrelationship of every man-made and natural element on the land.

"The opportunity for providing people of Illinois with a major recreation area in conjunction with development of a major power generating facility is unique and we look forward to the exciting challenge that such a project presents," Roy said.

Plans are that the first 800,000 kilowatt nuclear unit Clinton will go on the Illinois Power system in 1980.

Necessary studies, in addition to those of JJR, are in progress. Industrial Bio-Test Laboratories, Inc., is at work in the area determining present ecological and environmental conditions as part of the preparation of an environmental impact report.

The Bio-Test report and that of JJR will be completed by April 1973, when licensing hearings are expected to begin for the Clinton project.

At Baldwin, Ill., where IP has a 605-megawatt fossil generating unit in operation, and two others under construction, the company has leased the 2,000-acre cooling pond and nearby land to the state of Illinois.

The Department of Conservation controls fishing at the lake; the company retains ownership and tax liability.

At its Vermilion plant, near Danville, the IP lake is leased to a fishing club, with memberships throughout the area.

SIUE Social Welfare Program Accredited

The Council on Social Work Education has accredited the Social welfare program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Richard Swaine, who along with SIUE faculty member Robert Ashpole, teaches the social welfare courses in the sociology department, said accreditation means that the program "meets all the standards" of the national council, based in New York City.

Swaine said the emphasis of the program is to prepare students for social work positions in the community. The four required courses and four elective courses in the program include field experience.

Some of the agencies where SIUE students have been doing their field work are the Madison County Mental Health Center in Alton, the Canteen Township Neighborhood Opportunity Center and the Halfway-in House, Belleville.

Public Hearing on Airport Tomorrow

A public hearing on the proposed Waterloo-Columbia site in Illinois for a new major St. Louis metropolitan area airport will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the Marriott Motor Hotel, Interstate-70, across from Lambert-St. Louis International Airport.

The final hearing was called by the Federal Aviation Administration to hear final comments from the public before acting on an application for land acquisition funds for the Waterloo-Columbia location. Six public hearings, hosted by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, already have been held and complete transcripts of the hearings have been sent to the FAA.

Student Housing In Short Supply

Students planning to attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this fall who do not have housing should begin looking immediately. Rex Hermismeyer of the SIUE Housing Office said today.

"Off-campus housing for students is extremely tight in all the communities around SIUE," he said. Hermismeyer added that students looking for housing are encouraged to visit the SIUE Housing Office in the General Office Building on the local campus.

A master listing of all houses, apartments, mobile homes and rooms registered with the Housing Office is available to students. Also available is a listing of current vacancies from the registered housing list.

Landlords wishing to be registered with the Housing Office must sign a statement which says: "As the owner of the above designated facility, I hereby apply for consideration by the university to be listed on the availability listing. In making this application, I certify that the accommodation satisfies all existing health, zoning and safety standards and is available to all persons regardless of race, color, religion or national origin."

Hermismeyer said students are not limited to registered housing. "Students have a complete freedom of choice to live where they want." Classified sections of area newspapers and maps to help locate rental facilities are available in the Housing Office. Persons searching for housing may use a telephone in the Housing Office while looking for facilities.

Suggested Procedure
After a student has checked the Housing Office, newspapers and realtors, Hermismeyer suggests he follow the sequence below to help make his search successful:

Make an appointment with the landlord to inspect the facility during daylight hours.

Walk or drive around the neighborhood to see the facility's setting.

Carefully inspect the facility to assure that the heating, plumbing and locks work.

Discuss the contract thoroughly with the landlord.

Make a written inventory of the quantity, quality, type and condition of the furnishings immediately after occupancy, giving a copy to the landlord to alleviate potential problems when occupancy ends.

Choose roommates carefully. Determine financial limitations before signing a contract. Consider costs of rent, food, tuition, books, utilities, and other needs.

Tower Lake Waiting List
Hermismeyer said the university is able to meet a small portion of the demand for housing with its Tower Lake Apartments. He said, however, that there is a waiting list for Tower Lake.

Tower Lake, within walking distance of the main campus, was completed in 1970 and has 216 spaces for single women, 184 spaces for single men and 148 apartments for families. There are 31 buildings in the complex, each building containing eight apartment units.

Single student apartments are furnished and rent for $345 per academic year—fall, winter and spring quarters. Married students, faculty and staff have a choice of an unfurnished two-bedroom unit for $115 per month; a furnished two-bedroom unit for $125; an unfurnished three-bedroom unit for $125; and a furnished three-bedroom unit for $135.

Facilities available to all residents are three laundromats, three meeting rooms, vending machines, two playground areas for children, parking lots and recreational facilities.

More units at Tower Lake are expected to be available in 1973 to help meet the demand for on-campus housing. At its June meeting, the SIUE Board of Trustees approved construction of an additional 240 units on a 30-acre area north of the existing Tower Lake complex.

Hermismeyer said that when the new units are completed, SIUE will be able to provide housing for approximately 85% of its full-time enrollment. The trustees have adopted a policy authorizing on-campus housing not to exceed 20% of full-time enrollment.

$150,000 Grant to SIUE To Plan Veteran Centers

The Illinois General Assembly has appropriated $150,000 for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville to support planning for veterans service centers in Madison and St. Clair counties.

The proposed centers are expected to open later this year in Alton and East St. Louis, according to Peter Gillingham, research associate at SIUE and director of the Illinois Veterans Working Group, the organization in charge of the planning.

The $150,000, subject to release by Illinois Gov. Richard Ogilvie, has been supplemented by an $18,072 planning grant from the state Division of Vocational and Technical Education. Gillingham said Ogilvie was instrumental in securing the funds.

Gillingham said the service centers will be designed and operated almost entirely by Vietnam-era veterans.

"The plan calls for veterans operating the service centers to work with local private and governmental agencies, employers, unions and educational and training institutions so that a veteran will be able to walk in with almost any problem and receive at least first-stage assistance from veterans at the center," Gillingham said.

Special Agencies
Gillingham said veterans needing help in some instances will be referred to more specialized agencies. He said veterans planning service centers currently are gathering information in the areas of identifying full and part-time jobs, job development, education, vocational training, government benefits, drug rehabilitation, reversal of undesired dishonorable discharges and readjustment to civilian society.

The current planning group includes a staff of about 30 Vietnam-era veterans, five professional and clerical workers, student workers and consultants, many of whom are faculty members at SIUE.

Government Costs Over $2,000 a Year Per Person

Unless productivity per worker can be increased, the cost of government could rise to $15,000 a year per person in the United States by the end of the century, Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts, said Thursday.

Howlett was the featured speaker at a dinner of the Melrose Park Kiwanis Club. He said government—federal, state and local—already is spending more than $2,000 a year for every man, woman and child in Illinois.

"Federal expenditures have been doubling every nine years," Howlett said. "But state and local taxes have been going up too."

"Here in Illinois they have been going up faster than anywhere else. From 1960 to 1970, state and local taxes in Illinois more than doubled—from $206 per person to $487. During the same single fiscal year—1970—they went up $114 for every person in Illinois."

"We cannot continue to take a bigger piece of the economy year after year to pay for government. The only answer is to increase productivity per government worker to relieve the taxpayer and more productivity per industrial worker to combat inflation."

Needs Combined Effort
"It is futile to blame labor for raising wages, or management for raising taxes. It will take a partnership effort of all three to find new ways to provide goods and services with less effort."

Howlett said increased productivity has made possible the industrial recovery of Japan and West Germany. He said business principles have been applied successfully to speed up productivity in the Auditor's office during his 12 years in it.

"Since I was elected in 1960," he said, "the total work force of state government has doubled. The expenditure of state government has doubled and redoubled."

Gillingham said principal coordinating roles are being played by five Vietnam-era veterans: Harold Bryant and William Moore of East St. Louis, William Varble of Alton, James Radford of Godfrey and William Seib of Collinsville.

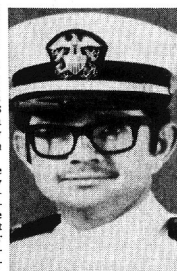

The funds received thus far are for salaries and planning. Gillingham said he hopes planning to cooperate with Ogilvie's staff in seeking "major federal funding" to operate the service centers.

Gillingham said the current planning is an outgrowth of the Veterans World Project, also based at SIUE, which involved hundreds of Vietnam-era veterans in 1971 and early this year under a grant from the U. S. Office of Education.

National Attention
Project members produced a report, "Wasted Men," which has received national attention. The report included an Illinois Plan drafted by veterans which contained the idea of establishing prototype veterans service centers. Project members presented the Illinois Plan to Ogilvie when he met with them at SIUE last January.

Gillingham, who also directed the Veterans World Project, said the current stage is a natural progression from the project.

"The Veterans World Project was built on the idea that Vietnam-era veterans might be uniquely qualified, perhaps better than professional researchers, to tell the rest of us about the true nature of their experiences, attitudes, needs, problems and hopes," he said. "Much of their work necessarily had to be introspective and critical, even very negative in tone. What the Illinois Veterans Working Group represents is veterans going beyond the stage of criticism to positive action at the local level in our part of Illinois."

The Schermers Bulletin...

Our "crew" is still shell-shocked from the big sale last week. We believe it was the best sale of the year. As far as we know we didn't run out of anything. The meat department reports that as far as they are concerned, they don't want to look another chicken in the face. They packed almost 10,000 of them last week; that's a lot of chicken. Of course at 25 cents a pound, that's a lot of delicious economical eating, and economical eating is what Schermers Super Market is all about.

Leo went to Kansas City Thursday for another Christmas show, and he reports that the "hot" number for this Christmas will be Musical Tree Stands. That's right. You'll have to see and hear them when they come in early this year so that you can visit at your leisure and avoid the last minute rush.

In case you haven't noticed all the activity, take a look. It seems as though everyone is getting involved in the big MILLION DOLLAR MUSIC SHOW to be held here in Granite at the High School football field just two weeks from tonight. All the Shriners are working. The Boy Scouts are working. And of course St. Elizabeth's Hospital is working, too. You, too, can help. JUST COME TO THE SHOW. Everyone who buys a ticket to this show will be helping three great organizations. You all know about the Boy Scouts; the hospital, and the great Shrine philanthropy. These organizations are working right here for you; they deserve your support. Non-TICKETS ARE GOING FAST. IF YOU DON'T HAVE YOURS, CONTACT YOUR NEAREST SHRINER, BOY SCOUT LEADER, EXPLORER SCOUT, OR JUST STOP IN AT THE HOSPITAL, they have them, too. Schermers Bros. also have tickets. All tickets are $2.00 and it's a real charity show as well as three hours of wonderful entertainment. You can't beat that combination.

Second-Quarter Earnings Rise at General Steel

General Steel Industries, Inc., had net sales of $42,466,000 and net income of $277,000, or 11 cents per share of common stock, for the three months ended June 30, compared with sales of $39,445,000 and a net loss of $156,000, or 6 cents per share, for the second quarter last year. W. Ashley Gray, Jr., president, announced today.

The second quarter's results brought GSI's sales for the first half of 1972 to $72,332,000 and reduced the net loss for that period to $133,000, or 5 cents per share, compared with sales of $34,715,000 and a net loss of $1,243,000, or 49 cents per share, in the first six months of 1971.

Gray reported that the return to profitable operations in the second quarter by General Steel Industries, a diversified manufacturing company with corporate headquarters in St. Louis, "would have been more pronounced if the Castings Division in Granite City had performed as expected."

Forecast Difficult

Discussing the outlook, Gray pointed out that, "the improved results for the second quarter are due to the profitable results at five of our seven operating units. We have noted before the potential for this new product."

State to 'Advertise' New Highway Signboard Law

by JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

Springfield — An unusual "selling" program, to market knowledge instead of noodles, will be undertaken soon by the Illinois Department of Transportation.

The innovative project, to inform state residents of the provisions of the highway signboard law which becomes effective July 1, has caught the fancy of federal authorities, which will underwrite 75% of the cost.

The program calls for running ads in 57 newspapers throughout the state, most of them dailies, but including a few weekly publications.

There also will be some 30-second television spot announcements and some radio spots as well.

The program revolves chiefly around the same approach any advertiser would use to catch reader interest, and then follow up by holding his interest long enough to inform him about the "product" — in this case, a law which says that anyone owning a billboard or other sign along an interstate or primary road in Illinois must register the sign with the department within 90 days after July 1. If the owner wishes to receive compensation for the removal of his sign.

Some Unaware

A spokesman for the department said the education campaign is not intended for the large industrial sign owners — these people as a professional interest will be well informed about the law anyway.

Rather, he said, small business operators who have paid some area farmer a small sum and erected a billboard on his property advertising their product or service, or rural residents who have permitted advertising messages to be painted on roofs, barn siding or even rocks on their property, may not be aware that the new law and have to be removed.

They will still be removed, even if they are registered, if they do not conform to the law.

Married Student Rulings Will Be Reviewed at Meet

Copley News Service

Springfield — Not long ago, a high school girl would usually be expelled if it was discovered she was secretly married.

Today, the courts have ruled she cannot be excluded from school "simply because she is pregnant," whether or not she is married. But pregnancy, according to Illinois school Superintendent Michael J. Bakalis, is known to be a major cause of school dropouts among girls.

To "sensitize" professionals working with school-age parents, in order to minimize what Bakalis calls "this discrimination," a two-day program of Comprehensive Services to School-Age Parents has been set by Bakalis' office for October in Champaign.

Among subjects on the agenda will be a panel, "How We See It," consisting of young parents, both married and unmarried. They will tell the group what they need, what they want and what they don't want in the way of services.

The group will be welcomed by U. of I. President John Corbally, and one of the chief addresses will be made by Dr. Bernard Braen, executive director of the National Alliance concerned with School-Age Parents.

Tentative plans call for the appearance of a representative of the department of Health, Education and Welfare. In addition, speakers will appear from the offices of the school superintendent, public health, public aid, children and family services and the regional HEW office.

Social Services

Other panels will consider federal and state programs for young school-age parents, resources available from both public and private sectors, comprehensive social services and action workshops to provide such services.

In a letter announcing the program, Bakalis said that the "comprehensive educational needs of all students, including school-aged parents, are of primary concern" to his office.

Much of "this same discrimination," he feels, applies to the school-aged father as well, whether married or not.

Universities, State Tracing Early Indian History Here by Excavating at Cahokia Mound Park

EVIDENCE OF A STOCKADE or wall at Cahokia Mound State Park (above) was first indicated by air photos. Pictured are State of Illinois archeological excavations on the east side of the park; all the projects are fenced in to prevent damage by visitors. The great wall may have been 7,800 feet long and required 14,000 logs. The park contains remains of the largest prehistoric Indian town in the U. S. Although it is named after the Cahokia Indians of the Illini nation, who hunted the area when the French arrived, their relationship to earlier inhabitants is not clear. Since the true name of the original Indians here is not known, they have been called "Mississippian"; their culture first appeared along the river between here and Memphis. At the base of the SOUTH RAMP (below), archeologists and students from Washington University, St. Louis, are looking for the main entrance way to Monks Mound. Groups, such as the children near them from Lafayette School, East St. Louis, are given in-depth tours of the scientific activity at the park through calling 344-4750. Daily tours are conducted at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. for tourists and family groups. Sifting for artifacts at the Monks Mound first terrace

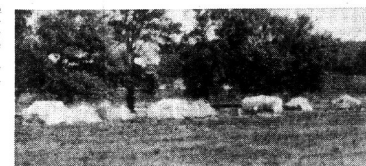

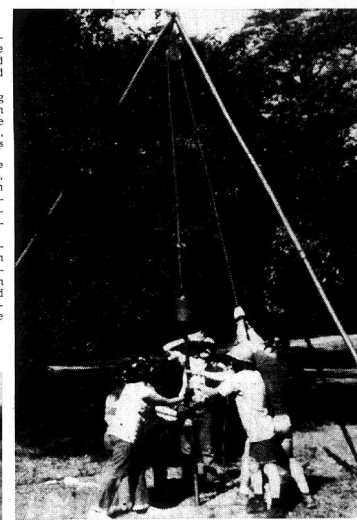

(photo at top right) are Rick Wilson of Swarthmore College, Pa., and Mick Gnani, a Collinsville University of Illinois archeology student. Named after Trappists Monks who lived nearby from 1809 to 1815, the mound is 1,037 feet long and 790 feet wide, built in four terraces, the fourth being 100 feet high. It was begun around 900 A.D. A large building, presumably a temple, covered the back of the fourth terrace.

PREPARING FINDINGS. University of Wisconsin students from Milwaukee are seen above coating pottery, measuring and describing findings as to size, shape, decorations and type of material—clay, wood or stone. The information is recorded on computer data sheets for further study. Barbara Vander Leest, back to camera, is recording data. Sitting across from her, Carter Lupton is examining an artifact. At the far left, indications of a wall and dwelling have been found on the first level of Monks Mound. Standing viewing the University of Illinois - Champaign project, here are James Anderson, curator of archeology at the park, and John Gatewood, project supervisor for the U. of I. Workers in the excavation are kneeling. Robbie Little, archeology student, and two volunteer workers from Collinsville, Francine Rand on the left with shovel, and Debbie Johnson.

The Washington University project is shown at the left below. Archeology students Jon Strom, seated on left, making a map, and Mike Griffin, measuring in pit, are both from Webster Groves. They are on the south ramp's first terrace at Monks Mound, looking for a gate. The south ramp appears to be the main entrance way to the top of the mound. The small photo below shows tents in which some of the 100 university students and supervisors reside while studying and digging at the park. The group does its own cooking. Testing of soil pollen is shown at right. Students from the University of Illinois-Chicago Circle are bringing up soil samples from deep within the earth in the southwestern part of Cahokia Mound State Park. The soil is sent to laboratories for study. From the pollen, scientists can tell what prehistoric temperatures were like and how early Indians modified the terrain for their homes and temples.

At the lower right, looking for evidence of the stockade on the west side of the park are students from Beloit College, Wis. Evidence of the wall has been found on the east side. Standing, left to right, are Annie Welch and Rick Yerkes, both Beloit students, and Jim Anderson, curator of archeology for the park. In the excavation is John Kelley, field supervisor. A sifting table and a fire extinguisher full of water to wash findings are visible. Beloit College also has a field lab in the park. Six universities and the State of Illinois are working on such projects in the park this summer.

Reduce Insurance Costs for Safe Drivers—Howlett

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for Illinois secretary of state, believes safe drivers should be rewarded by insurance companies as bad drivers are now penalized.

As secretary of state, he would increase the recognition now given by the state to safe drivers and would work with insurance firms to try to obtain a preferential rating that would save them money.

Howlett discussed his views at a dinner of "Friends of Howlett and Johnson" Saturday night in the Knights of Columbus Hall at Rantoul. Lawrence W. Johnson, state attorney of Champaign County, is the Democratic candidate for Congress in the 21st District.

The late Charles Carpenter began the practice, continued by later secretaries, of issuing a safety citation, along with renewal of a driver's license, to drivers with no convictions of moving violations during the previous three years," Howlett noted.

"Many drivers appreciate the citation and carry it in their wallets with the license. But they still pay the same insurance premium as beginners or recent migrants to Illinois who have no record of driving experience."

"When a driver is convicted of a violation, it is entered on his record in the secretary's office. The record is public and is examined by insurance companies. Drivers with a bad record are penalized by a higher rate for their insurance."

"As secretary, I would continue to issue a citation to a good driver for his wallet, but would add another which he could send along to his insurance company."

"Since the insurance company would be under an obligation to give him any special consideration, I would use the prestige of the secretary's office to try to persuade the insurance industry of the advantages of a preferred rate for outstanding drivers."

"I believe the secretary of state also should issue a decal sticker to the safe driver which he could affix to the rear window of his car. It would be an additional incentive to him to keep his record clean."

More Americans have been killed in motor vehicle accidents than in all our wars since the Revolution. More are killed every year than in the entire history of the Vietnam conflict.

"It is especially dangerous for teenagers. In a single year, the National Safety Council found that four out of every 10 licensed teenagers were involved in a traffic crash."

"Yet, there are countless Illinois citizens who have been driving for 20, 30 or more years without a moving traffic violation or accident against their record," Howlett asserted.

"The responsible driver avoids accidents but pays the premiums which pay for other drivers' accidents. A record of responsibility and safe driving deserves more recognition than is now given."

Yackel; three daughters, Mrs. Shirley Porter, Mrs. Iris Honchak and Mrs. Juanita Spence, all of Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Charlotte Burris, and a brother, Edwin Yackel, both of Granite City; his mother, Mrs. Lillian Snider of Granite City; nine grandchildren and one great-grandchild. ## STEELWORKERS

Steelworkers officials stressed that the company employs no workers at the tip end of the scale.

Steelworkers Locals receiving increases at Granite City Steel Co. are Locals 16, 30, 67 and 68. Local 1785 at Laclede also is affected.

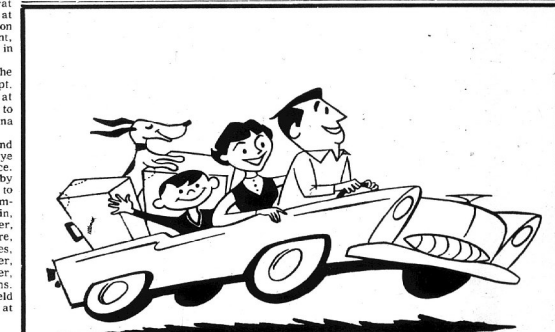

Cost of living increases will be added when the July cost of living index has been released, probably in two to three weeks, a Steelworkers' spokesman said today. The cost of living increases will be paid retroactive to Aug. 1 and the agreements provide for increases every three months during the contract period, he said.

The cost of living increase was agreed upon at one cent for each four-tenths of a point increase in the cost of living index between June and July.

Expect Favorable Ruling

The fact that the increases have not been approved by the pay board leaves in doubt the question of whether the raises will be paid tomorrow, but the union spokesman indicated such a decision would affect the entire steel industry and he expected no adverse ruling.
